Skull Hooker™ Brings Down Trophies with the New Table Mount

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.— Skull Hooker™, the company that revolutionized the way hunters display their European skull-mount trophies, now offers a tabletop design. The new Skull Hooker Table Mount is specifically designed to showcase small to medium animals such as cougar, bear, pronghorn, impala and deer on a table, desk or shelf.

The Skull Hooker's proprietary design of a multi-position adjustable prong that is incorporated into the display provides a stunning and unique presentation for each species. Available in Skull Hooker's robust brown or graphite black powder-coated finishes, this new display is the perfect way to elegantly present your trophy in an office or on the shelf in a room.

The new Skull Hooker Table Mount is the easy, affordable and attractive answer to showcasing your treasured European skull-mount trophies. It will be available at sporting goods retailers nationwide and conveniently online at www.skullhooker.com this spring for a suggested retail price of just $59.99 USD.

Founded in 2009, Skull Hooker was the first company to offer professionally crafted and fully adjustable European-style skull-mounting brackets that naturally showcases a trophy animal in an elegant manner. The Skull Hooker's mounting system for European mounts is available in two sizes to accommodate most species horns and antlers: the Big Hooker and the Little Hooker. And now, the Bone Bracket and Skull cap, are available in one size for those smaller skull capped game species. For more information, contact: Skull Hooker, P.O.
