Sawed Off Skull Caps Never Looked So Good – SkullHooker's New Skull Cap

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (November 10, 2014) — Until now, displaying sawed-off skull cap trophies was not an option. With the new SkullHooker Skull Cap, these often treasured, yet unsightly trophies can be dressed up and beautifully displayed in your home. This new inexpensive cover now provides a clean, finished look to the skull capped trophy.

SkullHooker's new Skull Cap is uniquely designed for small to mid-sized game and can be trimmed for customized fit or to accommodate extra wide racks. The sleek and stylish cover comes in brown but can easily be painted to customize your trophy to fit your style or match your decor. It comes with everything you need and easy-to-follow instructions.

For wall mounting, the Skull Cap is completely compatible with the SkullHooker Bone Bracket hanging bracket. On the wall or on a table, proudly and beautifully display your sawed off skull caps with the new SkullHooker Skull Cap. Available at retailer nationwide or conveniently online at www.skullhooker.com for only $9.99.

Founded in 2009, Skull Hooker was the first company to offer professionally crafted and fully adjustable European-style skull-mounting brackets that naturally showcase trophy animals in an elegant manner. The Skull Hooker wall-mounting system for European mounts is available in two sizes to accommodate most species horns and antlers: the Big Hooker and the Little Hooker. The Table Hooker showcases small to medium animals on a table, desk or shelf. The Bone Bracket and Skull Cap are available for smaller- to medium-sized skull-capped game species. For more information on Skull Hooker and its products contact: Skull Hooker, P.O.
