Everyone Is Getting “Hooked” on the Skull Hooker®

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. — Prestigiously showcasing your prized hunting trophies no longer requires lengthy time at the taxidermist or a costly loan from the bank. Skull Hooker has revolutionized the way hunters can display their European skull-mount trophies with its affordable, stylish and easy do-it-yourself bracket system. No matter what your trophy may be, from roe deer and chamois to Cape buffalo the Skull Hooker’s patented Little Hooker® and Big Hooker® mounting solutions have you covered.

The Little Hooker skull hanger is designed specifically for small to mid-sized skulls including, all deer species, boar, mouflon, chamois, Ibex, Tur, bear, cats, and exotic medium-size game such as antelope, gazelle, impala and others. The Big Hooker holds large to extra-large sized skulls including, red stag, bear, elk, bison, moose, caribou, grizzly/brown/polar bears, and other exotic larger game such as kudu, giraffe, wildebeest, oryx and Cape buffalo. Either one can be assembled in a matter of minutes with no permanent alterations to your skull. Simply attach the wall plaque to a wall stud with the supplied screws, insert the mounting arm studs into the wall-plaque’s pivot rings, attach the prong to the mounting arm in any one of 12 adjustment angles, lower the skull onto the center prong—the Big Hooker comes with a second prong for extra-large skulls—through the spinal opening, and you're finished. Adjustments and changes to the angle can be made at any time.

Each Skull Hooker mount is constructed of heavy-gauge steel, rustically powder coated in either Robust Brown or Graphite Black for a simple yet stylish display of your trophy. The Little Hooker and Big Hooker are available at retailers nationwide or conveniently online at www.skullhooker.com for suggested retail prices of $34.99 and $59.99 USD, respectively.

Show off your trophies and save some money with the Little Hooker and Big Hooker from Skull Hooker.

Founded in 2009, Skull Hooker was the first company to offer professionally crafted and fully adjustable European-style skull-mounting brackets that naturally showcase trophy animals in an elegant manner. The Skull Hooker wall-mounting system for European mounts is available in two sizes to accommodate most species horns and antlers: the Big Hooker and the Little Hooker. The Table Hooker showcases small to medium animals on a table, desk or shelf. The Bone Bracket and Skull Cap are available for smaller- to medium-sized skull-capped game species.
